DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1,3,5,6,8,10,12,14,15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Drug Launches (1993) and view of the acknowledged prior art and Schmidt et al. (US Pat. 5,424,064), Holtman et al. and Sable et al. for the reasons of record and the further reasons below.

Drug Launches (1993), the acknowledged prior art, Schmidt et al. (US Pat. 5,424,064), Holtman et al. and Sable et al. were discussed in the prior Office Actions and the same are incorporated herein.

Examiner has duly considered Applicant's arguments but deems them unpersuasive.

In response to applicant's arguments against the references individually, one cannot show nonobviousness by attacking references individually where the rejections are based on combinations of references. See In re Keller, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981); In re Merck & Co., 231 USPQ 375 (Fed. Cir. 1986). Further, the test for obviousness is not whether the features of a secondary reference may be bodily incorporated into the structure of the primary reference; nor is it that the claimed invention must be expressly suggested in any one or all of the references. Rather, the test is what the combined teachings of the references would have suggested to those of ordinary skill in the art. See In re Keller, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981).

Art Unit: 1616

Applicant argues that Drug Launches does not disclose or suggest the combination of simethicone with bisacodyl for purposes of improving the laxative effect of bisacodyl or the use of simethicone in amounts greater than trace amounts in the coating or in amount of about 10 mg to about 500 mg. As indicated above, there is no requirement that claimed invention must be expressly suggested in any one or all of the references. Further, the reason or motivation to modify the reference may often suggest what the inventor has done, but for a different purpose or to solve a different problem. It is not necessary that the prior art suggest the combination to achieve the same advantage or result discovered by applicant. In re Linter, 173 USPQ 560 (CCPA 1972); In re Dillon, 16 USPQ2d 1897 (Fed. Cir. 1990), cert. denied, 500 U.S. 904 (1991).

Applicant has provided no evidence that Holtman et al. is solely relevant to upper gastrointestinal disorders. The mere fact that treatment of dyspepsia is disclosed does not provide evidence of the same. The broad disclosure of Holtman et al. does not distinguish between upper and lower gastrointestinal motility. Similar to the above, it is not necessary that Holtmann et al. disclose that simethicone treats constipation or improves small bowel motility or the combination of simethicone and a laxative, i.e. bisacodyl. Applicant has acknowledged that simethicone is used for the treatment of constipation (Specification, pg. 1, lines 27-31).

Similarly Applicant's arguments relative to Schmidt do not overcome the rejection in that as indicated there is no requirement that the claimed invention must be expressly suggested in any one or all of the references. Applicant cites to Schmidt ('220), however, Schmidt ('220) is not part of the rejection. In any case, the mere fact that Schmidt in a completely separate patent disclosed that there are side effects associated with laxatives is insufficient to overcome the rejection herein. "A known or obvious composition does not become patentable simply because it has been described as somewhat inferior to some other product for the same use." In re Gurley, 31 USPQ2d 1130, 1132 (Fed. Cir. 1994). Further, the dose in Schmidt ('220) is for simethicone alone. It would readily apparent to one of ordinary skill in the art that the combination simethicone with another agent having the same action or resulting in the same action would allow reduction of amounts of the components versus either component alone.

Therefore, the claimed invention, as a whole, would have been prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made, because every element of the invention has been collectively taught by the combined teachings of the references.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
